Orange Social Venture Prize in 2020...

Since 2011, the Orange Social Venture Prize in Africa and the Middle East has been part of an approach to detect and support start-ups. The competition starts with a national phase during which each of the 17 Orange subsidiaries taking part will examine the projects submitted in its country and nominate three winners maximum. Then there will be a second international phase in which the winners from each country, up to 54 winners in total, will compete before an international panel which will award the OSVP grand prize.

Furthermore, the 10 international finalists will have the opportunity to receive personalised support from experts in founding and financing new companies.

10 years of support to technological start-ups with a positive impact!

Two additional prizes to celebrate POESAM's 10th anniversary: one women award and one 10th year special award

So this year a total of 5 Prizes will be awarded for the international Grand Prize.
